LADIES' FANCY BOLERO.

One of the Dressy Accessories of a Woman's Wardrobe.

Among the dainty accessories to the feminine wardrobe are attractive little bolero jackets which accompany the fancy waists or are finished to be worn as extra garments. They are made of velvet, panne, tucked taffeta, crepe de Chine, or Liberty satin, lace and Persian embroidery, and elaborately trimmed.

The illustration shows two boleros, which are included in the one pattern.
Figure 1 is a jacket of finely tucked black Liberty satin. It is adjusted with shoulder and under-arm seams only. The lower edge is cut in pointed outline and the entire bolero finished with jeweled bands of gold. This is an effective conceit to wear over a black or white bodice,

Figure 2 shows a bolero of marine blue panne, shaped with the usual shoulder and under-arm seams, and curved over the bust. The neck is completed with a sallor collar of white peau de sole, which forms fancy revers in front and is covered with heavy Dussian lace.

Russian lace.

In some cases women have a bolero fitted perfectly to their figure and then send the model to a lacemaker, who will execute these jackets to order. They are most elaborate and expensive, but very elegant, and may be worn with many different bodices, producing a rich effect. may be worn with many interest sources, producing a rich effect.

To make the boleros in the medium size will require one yard of twenty-two-inch material for No. 1 design, and one and one-fourth yards for No. 2 design. The pattern, No. 8242, is cut in sizes for a 32, 36 and 40
